JACKSON COUNTY FARM BUREAU AWARDS SCHOLARSHIP TO LOCAL STUDENTS

JACKSON COUNTY FARM BUREAU AWARDS SCHOLARSHIP

For more than 50 years, Kentucky Farm Bureau has been assisting students in their educational pursuits. Since its inception in 1953, the Kentucky Farm Bureau Education Foundation has distributed more than 1.7 million dollars of scholarship money to deserving students in Kentucky.

Jackson County Farm Bureau awarded three $1,000 scholarships to local students this year. The awards go to students graduating from high school with at least a 3.0 GPA and enrolling in college in the fall.

The following Students will be receiving Jackson County's 2017 Scholarship Awards:

Olivia Webb is the daughter of Arvin and Yolanda Webb of Annville. She plans to attend Eastern Kentucky University and Major in Elementary Education with a Minor in Special Education. She would like to become an Elementary Math Teacher.

James Tincher is the son of Pat and Angie Tincher of McKee. James will be attending Eastern Kentucky University and plans become a Librarian. His studies will include a Major in Library Science and a Minor in Psychology.

Emily Marks Harrison is the daughter of Jenny Parker and Tracy Harrison both of Jackson County. Emily will attend Somerset Community College and then transfer to a 4 year University. Her Major will be in Business and Minor in Insurance. She plans to work in the field of Insurance after graduation.
