Hunter Drury Named Mercer County Young Farmer of 2019

Young Farmer Chair Kendra Rowland recognized Hunter Drury as Mercer County Farm Bureau's Young Farmer of the Year.

The Mercer County Farm Bureau Annual Meeting was held September 09, 2019, with over 120 members in attendance. Highlights of the evening included the youth contests, officer and board member elections, and presentation of the Outstanding Young Farmer of the Year Award to Hunter Drury.

Hunter grew up farming with his grandfather and father. Hunter married Ali Cusick Thom in 2016 and they have a one year old daughter, Hadleigh Caroline. They own 58 acres and lease another 250 acres. They have a cow/calf operation and grew 24 acres of tobacco and 10 acres of hemp

Outstanding Farm Bureau Youth contestants were Addie Riley, Chase Flach, Alexis Jones, and Jonathan Pinkston.

Salute to Our Young People as Winners in the Outstanding Youth Contest and Variety Contest

A total of four students competed in the Outstanding Farm Bureau Youth Contest, participating in a judge's interview and presenting speeches on agriculture. This year's winners were Jonathan Pinkston in the male division and Addie Riley in the female division. Alexis Jones placed second and Chase Flach was third.

In the Variety Contest this year, we had three contestants. Amelia Ellis won first place with her vocal performance, Kylie Mobley was the runner-up with her solo and Landon Howard placed third.

Several members of the Mercer County Farm Bureau staff were in attendance, as well as Kentucky Farm Bureau's President, Mark Haney, Eddie Melton, 1st Vice President and Sharon Furches, 2nd Vice President, Matt Ingram, Director, Organization Division & Assistant to the Executive Vice President, and Jeff Harper, Director, Public Affairs Division. Kentucky Farm Bureau 5th District Directors Joe Paul Mattingly, Scott Travis, and Randy Chrisman were also in attendance. Mercer County Farm Bureau's board approved legislative resolutions and elected the board members and officers for 2020.

Variety Contest Contestants were Amelia Ellis, Landon Howard, and Kylie Mobley.

KENTUCKY FARM BUREAU MISSION STATEMENT

Farm Bureau is a voluntary organization of farm families and their allies dedicated to serving as the voice of agriculture by identifying problems, developing solutions, and taking actions which will improve net farm income, achieve better economic opportunities, and enhance the quality of life for all.

DEER ARE DEADLY

Each year across the nation white-tailed deer are responsible for tens of thousands of injuries and deaths simply by causing car accidents. More than 47% of all collisions with deer in Kentucky take place during the months of October, November, and December. Buckle up and drive cautiously this fall. Deer can be deadly!
